

Help your borrowers buy sooner and earn more equity with a lower down payment

THE FIRST-TIME HOMEBUYER

Isaiah graduated from college a few years ago and is thinking about purchasing a home in the city where he landed his first job. He has a little money saved up, but doesn't know much about the homebuying process. He's not sure if he'd be better off buying or continuing to rent.

The down payment hurdle

Isaiah has about $8,000 in savings that he could use toward the purchase of a home. But his parents think he should hold off on buying until he can save up more money for a down payment. Should Isaiah start looking to buy a home? Or should wait he wait until he has more money saved?

Another solution: Private mortgage insurance

While Isaiah waits to save up enough for a 20% down payment:

- Home prices or interest rates could rise, making his eventual purchase more expensive
- The rent he pays won't be building equity
- He won't be enjoying a home of his own

Isaiah's loan officer explains that using mortgage insurance (MI) would allow him to make as low as a 3% down payment – allowing him to become a homeowner sooner and build more equity.

Waiting to save up a 20% down payment would take Isaiah more than 7 years
